HUGE CROWD AT OPENING
OF NEW ATHLETIC PARKThree Thousand Fans in the New Ball Grounds to Watch First Games of Oahu League,

Oahu League Results.

Marines, 4; Kalihis, 1.
J. A. C., 9; C. A. C., 4.

Three thousand people paid for admission at the new Athletic park yesterday afternoon and even at that there was quite a crowd at Aala park. Do the people want baseball? Anybody who wanted an answer to that question should have been down and watched that gate for a few minutes while the crowd surged round the box office to get their tickets.

Bleachers and grandstand were packed to their utmost capacity and the crowd overflowed on to the grounds while, under the grandstand people were standing three and four deep to get a view of the game through the screened openings.

The diamond itself is of the latest skin variety and is very fast and true. Left field is deep but center and right field are a trifle restricted by the confines of the fence. There is just one disadvantage about the grounds and this appears only on a windy day. The diamond, with its more or less loose covering of fine earth and sawdust, is directly to windward of the grandstand and this makes it very hard on the eyes of spectators on a level with the ground. Up above it is not noticed so much but, in the press box and at the scorer's table it was a great inconvenience.

If the management of the grounds will permit a suggestion, the scorer should have a box to himself. Yesterday afternoon he was hemmed in by a seething overflow of humanity and it was hard for him to attend properly to his work with a score of questions being fired at him nearly every minute of the game.

There is a fine big scoreboard where everybody can see it and the fence is high enough to make only the highest branches of the trees possible as a free gallery, but these were well weighted and there was another bunch of spectators at the windows of the houses that overlook the grounds.

Big Crowd at Parade.

The big parade started from Fort and King at 12:30, and there was a huge crowd to accompany it to the new grounds. First came Joe Leal, mounted, then two rows of four policemen; after them were the Mayor and Major Long, followed by Nigel Jackson, the official scorer, and Eddie Fernandez, the official umpire. After these came Captain Berger with his Royal Hawaiian band, and then followed the teams, Marines, Kalihis, J. A. C., C. A. C., Portuguese A. C., junior teams, with the grand marshal mounted at the side of the parade. At the King street bridge Bonine was ready with his moving picture machine and caught a fine film of the big doings.

Arrived at the grounds the parade entered and proceeded once round the grounds while the crowd in the grandstand and on the bleachers howled itself.

They sent it all right. Back came a postal order for $15.30, with a polite note to say that they did not feel justified in paying any winnings, but returned the original amount bet. "With 10 per cent. deducted for commission." Can you beat it? And the funny thing was that there was a pleasant postscript, asking if the amount was satisfactory. Oy Yoi.

Another little story also filters through. A certain pool was killed and the tickets thrown on the floor. A wise one sneaked back of the table and picked up two tickets, which later proved to be apparent winners. They were for $18 and $5, respectively. This wise one found a genial sucker in Honolulu to whom he sold the tickets. Now the genial sucker is wondering where he is at. Answer—He is twenty-three bones backward. What Ho!

More dope from Hilo. The papers now say that the Hilo bugs are not the only crooked ones. They accuse our Honolulu boys of selling out the baseball game. That is a cheerful and reassuring remark, we don't think.

Yet another story from Hilo. One of the really good citizens of that burg stated yesterday that O'Rourke was walking around trying to collect the Merchants' Stakes. He should collect. Yes?

Major Long Doubles.

Before the actual opening ceremony of pitching the first ball was performed, Major Long and Mayor Fern were brought forward and introduced to the crowd, who hailed their appearance with much cheering. Promptly at 1:30 the Mayor walked to the pitcher's box and sent a ball over the plate to Major Long, who swatted it hard for a foul.

The Mayor took another try and sent a ball, but the third was a strike, which the Mayor hit for a safe double to center field. Much joy on the bleachers.

The Second Game.

The C. A. C. seemed to have it all their own way in the first inning as they made three runs without a bingle on an extraordinary succession of errors, but the Japs soon settled down and got over their initial stage fright, later handing it to the dragonets in bunches.

The Japs scored in the first inning making one by Smith on a triple by Ross. Then the C. A. C. came back with three runs on two errors, hit by pitcher, a walk and two wild throws. In the second inning the Japs made three runs on three bingles, one double, an error and a wild throw.

The next scoring was done by the C. A. C. in the fifth inning. They made one run on one single, two errors and a stolen base. This was the last score for them. In the seventh the Japs made one on a single, a stolen base and an error by Sing Chong.

The J. A. C. made two more in the eighth on a triple, a bingle and two errors. Two more in the ninth without a hit on a base on balls, two errors and an attack of the sulks by John Lo, who walked off the field and would not pitch.

RECORD CROWD
AT FORBES FIELD

The Pittsburgh Dispatch of July 1 has a magnificently illustrated and well written account of the opening of the new Forbes baseball grounds in Pittsburgh, when Chicago handed it to the Pirates by the narrow margin of 3 to 2.

The record baseball crowd attended the game, there being no less than 30,338 paid admissions. Judging by the big seven column picture on the front page, the new grounds are about the finest that can be imagined. The bleachers and grandstand are of reinforced concrete, and the latter is a three-decker with an enormous seating capacity.

The notable feature of the game was in the eighth, when Miller, for the Pirates, swatted out what should have been a triple, with the bases full. Owing to ground rules, however, he scored only two men, otherwise he would have tied the score. This paper is indebted to Charlie Lambert for kindly sending up the copy of the Pittsburgh Dispatch.

MAUI MAN'S FINE
SUGGESTION

The following interesting letter comes from D. H. Davis of Wailuku to a local sportsman:

"Just a line to say that Maui is going to make a bid for the racing on July 4, 1910. We are now out of debt and have a balance in the treasury, the first in years. We will hang up purses of fair amounts and feel sure, from the deal the horsemen and public got in Hilo, that we shall have the Honolulu horses with us. Our races have been slow but fair. Any publicity which you may be able to obtain for this suggestion will be appreciated by the people of Maui. Yours, D. H. Davis."

A very excellent suggestion. Here in Honolulu we have a large idea that the Maui people are about the cleanest sportsmen going. They have always shown themselves to be, and a race meeting held at the Maui track would have the following advantages:

Maui is nearer than Hawaii. It will be less expensive to ship horses, and the steamer fare will be less; also it will take much less time to get there and back.

The Maui people would see that the game was run absolutely on the square and visitors would be able to bet their little fivers without bidding them a fond farewell as a matter of course.

Catering at Honolulu and Maui is excellent, and Honolulu people would not have to pay any two bones for eggs that cackle and ham that shouts.

It is true that you can get a first-class shave on Maui for two bits and a shine for—well, some of those Wailuku kids deserve more than a dime, but they don't demand twenty-five cents.

The Maui people have never been known to form themselves into a hui to seize the nimble dollar from the innocent visitor.

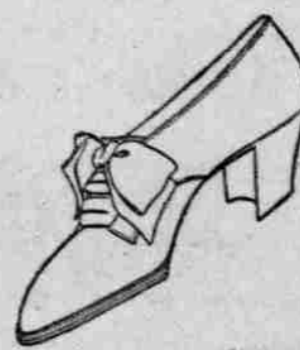

Recent sporting events of an inter-island nature have cemented the friendship between Maui and Oahu. Let us have another one, only make it New Years' Day instead of waiting a whole year.

STARLINES SCORE 21.

There was a hot game of ball on the oil tank grounds yesterday afternoon when the Starlines slipped it to the Pacifics by no less than 21 to 7, and became champions of the Seaside League. The winners made 20 bingles including many triples and a few home runs while the Pacifics were held down to seven.

The lineups were Starlines: Kan Yin, ss; Ah Tin, 3b; John Xavier, c; Tom Yen, 2b; Chun Duck, 1b; Ah Nap, cf; Hoopili, lf; C. L. Hook, rf; Ah Hoy, p. Pacifics: Tan Lo, 2b; Ah Ko, ss; Kawai, cf; Ah Pau, 1b; Ah Kin, 3b; Loo Horn, cf; Tom Kee, lf; Ah On, p; Alina, rf.
